*For every thing there is a

A time to love...

The beach is deserted with the exception of two misty figures beyond the third piling. The sand is smooth, untouched; it remains undisturbed in the absence of a summer breeze. The small waves, breaking slowly to greet the cool sands, and the still, gray sky reflect the calm of the early morning. A lone gull passes over the heads of a small group which treads the virgin sand and assembles near the water's edge. An atmosphere of deep reverence prevails.

The two distant figures approach in curiosity, their fishing disturbed by the odd appearance of the intruders. Traces of puzzlement appear in the austere, weather-beaten faces. They are silent in a clumsy manner as they place their equipment down, watching in amazement as the minister clears his throat.

The ceremony begins as he speaks of the fulfillment and beauty of love. In the tranquility of the early morning the souls of the small congregation are touched by the realization of the words that are spoken. Pinkish streaks blend slowly with the muted gray of the sky. The vows are spoken as the first delicate rays stream past the broad shoulders of the clergyman, radiating the joy already present in the faces of the young couple before him. The responses are hardly audible, so overwhelming is the intensity of their love paired with the awesome splendor of nature.

As the couple embrace, the fishermen brush the tears from their wrinkled faces and a distant gull's cry greets the newly arisen sun . . .

A black and white photograph of a chain-link fence. The fence is in the foreground, creating a diamond-shaped pattern across the entire frame. In the background, a building with a dark roof and some windows is visible, though it is out of focus. The lighting is soft, and the overall tone is somewhat somber.

A time to help . . .

and a time to heal . . .

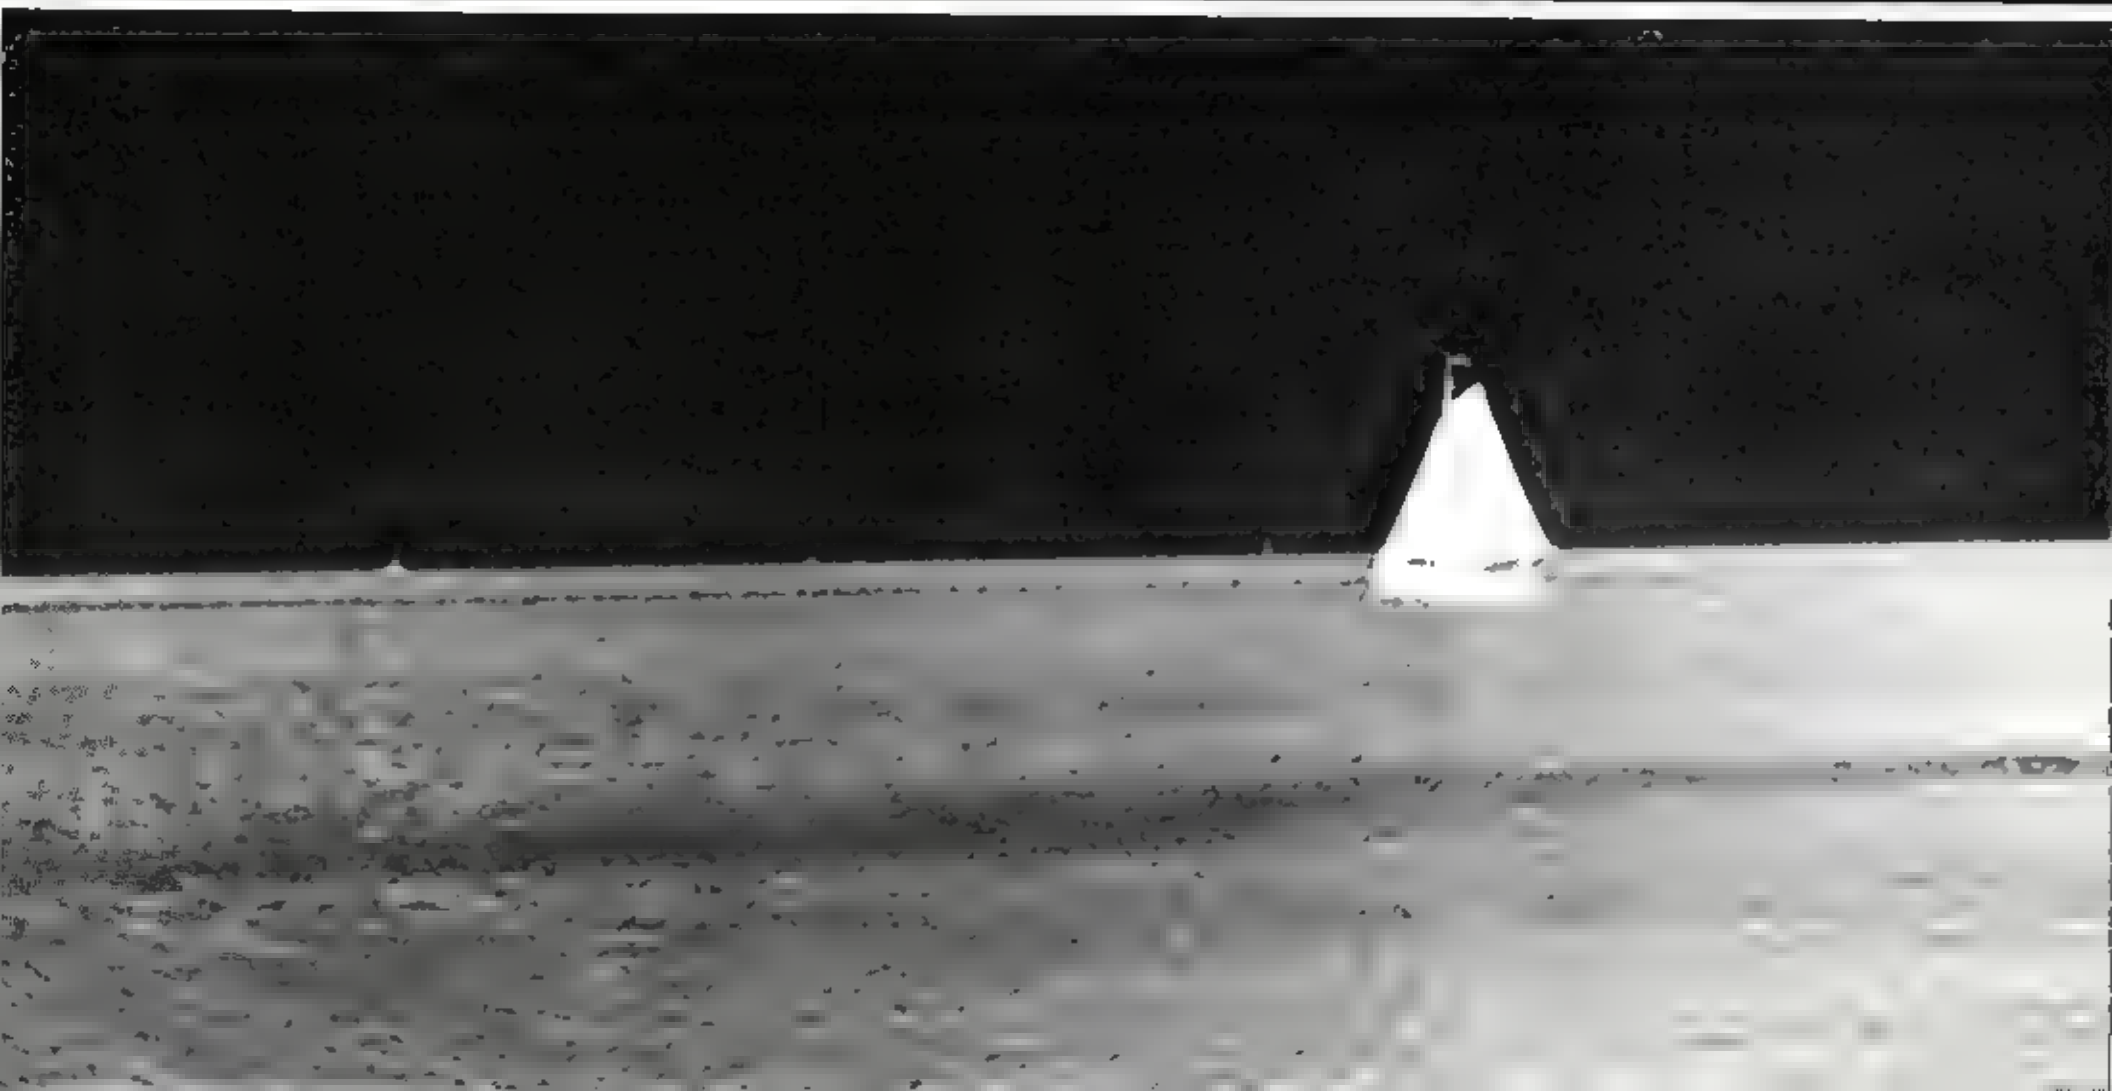

A time for silence . . .

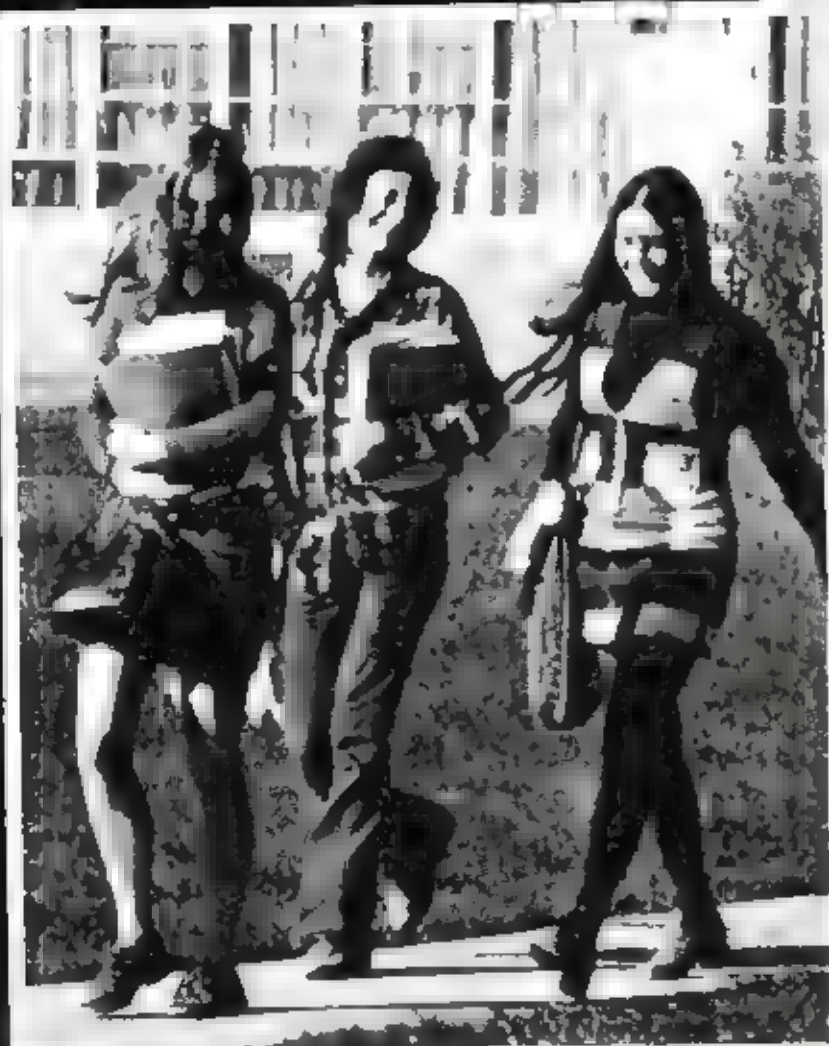

A stroll across the long and lonely beach, with only the sounds of the ocean rumbling amidst those of the salty sea breezes.
Sandpipers running, racing to escape
the wetness of a wave.
Not far away a tiny crab scurries to its home beneath the sand.
Footprints of people that no longer hold any identity line the shore with design.
The remains of a sandcastle scattered,
once towering and majestic,
now destroyed by the perilous tide.
All the business has died.
What was once crowded and noisy is now lonely, quiet and peaceful.

*The old man grappled with his memories, trying desperately to recall the days of his youth, lost now in time's journey.
 A thought of winter's bitter coldness passed through his mind bringing back the face of his brother so dear, so young,
 renowned only in life, not death
 The recollection brought tears, and with a quiet sigh
 the old man's life sifted through his memories and he became merely one of them, renowned only in death, not life.*

The Library Aides at North and South Campus help to keep the library running smoothly by volunteering their services during their free time. The aides are under the supervision of Miss Janet Ankrum and Miss Jeanne Yeagle at South Campus and Mrs. Martha Ho and Miss Elizabeth Snowden at North Campus. They help keep the shelves in order, work behind the checkout desk, stamp new books, file catalog cards and write over-due notices. Because it is solely a service organization, there are no formal meetings. The library aides are drawn by an interest in serving their school and fellow students.

While often going unnoticed, the nurses of Abington High are an integral part of the high school program. It is not so much the remedy of high temperatures brought on by a physics test next period; it is the knowledge that there are people in the school trained and prepared to act in any form of medical emergency.

Mrs. Pauline Carroll is District Supervisor with offices in South Campus. Staff in North Campus include Mrs. Jane Hart and Mrs. Ethel Murphy; Mrs. Elizabeth Estrin and Mrs. Mildred MacNaughton are in South Campus.

FOOTBALL

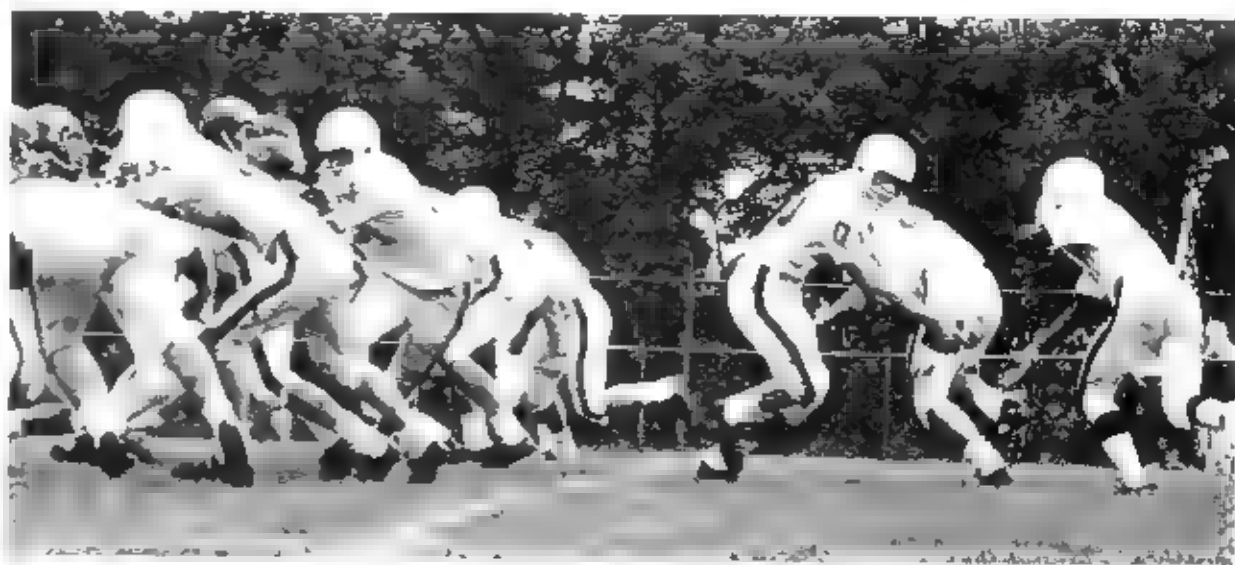

The 1971 football season was supposed to be a rebuilding year for the Ghosts, but you could hardly tell by their 7-3 record. Led by captain Jim Bickley, the Ghosts opened their season with a victory over Souderton. Paul Winters was the defensive star of the second non-league game, returning a fumble and an interception for touchdowns which were the margin of victory. The Ghosts opened league play with narrow losses to Upper Dublin and Upper Moreland, due primarily to the inexperience of the team. The Ghosts got back on the winning track with big wins over Methacton and William Tenant.

Continuing in their winning ways, Abington upset Plymouth-Whitemarsh. Scott Chalmers paced the Ghosts in their fourth straight Suburban I victory over Springfield, picking up 114 yards and three touchdowns. Though looking for a big upset over the Norristown Eagles, the Ghosts played on even terms with them during the entire game. They fell to the Eagles when they failed to convert a two point play trying for the upset.

Abington capped its season with a 22-0 victory over arch-rival Cheltenham. Outstanding performances were turned in by Scott Chalmers, gaining 130 yards, and Jim Bickley, scoring two touchdowns. Dennis Lee earned the MVP for the backs and John McEachern was the MVP among the linemen.

It was a fine year for Abington football and in the waning moments Big John was flown again, in hopes of another winning streak. Next year looks to be even more promising.

This fall soccer ruled the Abington sports scene. The Ghosts booted their way to their second consecutive Suburban I soccer championship setting records all along the way. Led by co-captains Mickey DePace and All-American Art Marsden, the team fought their way to the first undefeated season in Abington history, losing only to Central Bucks West in the District Playoffs.

This year's team was one of the finest to ever play in Abington. Ten members of the team were picked to the All Suburban team. The hard work and determination of all the team members made the season for the Ghosts, and it is something every team member should be proud of.

Coach Beaver will be losing senior linemen Art Marsden, Biller Miller, Dennis Mockaitus, and Bob Swinland and defensive backs Scott Latimer, Mickey DePace, Rick Michaels and goalie Jim Shapiro. The prospects for next year look good, however, and Coaches Beaver and Cooper will be looking for a third straight championship team.

SOCCER

This year's Cross Country team had a fair season. They finished with a record of eight wins and three losses. They went into the league meet with high hopes, but they finished a disappointing fourth, even though senior George Van Hook finished second and senior Paul Wilson finished eighth. Van Hook and Wilson then advanced to the Class A seeded race in districts. Meanwhile, the rest of the team ran in the non-seeded race, as only the top three teams and the top ten individuals in each league are eligible for the seeded race. Van Hook finished ninth in the seeded race, which advanced him on to state's. The team finished eighth out of twenty three teams in the non-seeded race. Outstanding seniors on the team were George Van Hook, Paul Wilson, Bob Bloor, John Lokken, Terry Leanness, Mike Bailey, and Bob Curran. Juniors and sophomores who made up the backbone of next year's team are Jim Shulson, Dave Barby, Mike Foote, Tom Shaw, Tom Conboy, Bob Evans, Larry Montgomery, Dave Booker, George Carr and Bill Burrows. Freshmen Bob Tranquillo and Chuck Burrows also did well and help forecast a bright future for the Ghost harriers.

The girl's hockey team, coached by Miss C. Schaffer and Mrs. Afilari (assistant coach) had a fairly successful season this year with the highlights being a victory over Cheltenham. The final team scores were one win, three losses, and two ties.

Unfortunately, many factors worked against the team this year. The teacher strike abruptly interrupted the season causing the cancellation of three important games. The loss of 1½ weeks of practice then led to a 0-5 defeat against Upper Dublin. Also, a strong center half back, Ginger Kraus, became ill in the middle of the season and thus couldn't play.

Captains Laurie MacMinn and Debbie Muhl were quite successful in drumming up team spirit. The cute new maroon kilts that the team received this year also added to their top rate appearance.

Abington's Varsity cagers, who were hit by injury and inexperience early in the season, never fully recovered to show what they were made of to the rest of the Suburban I.

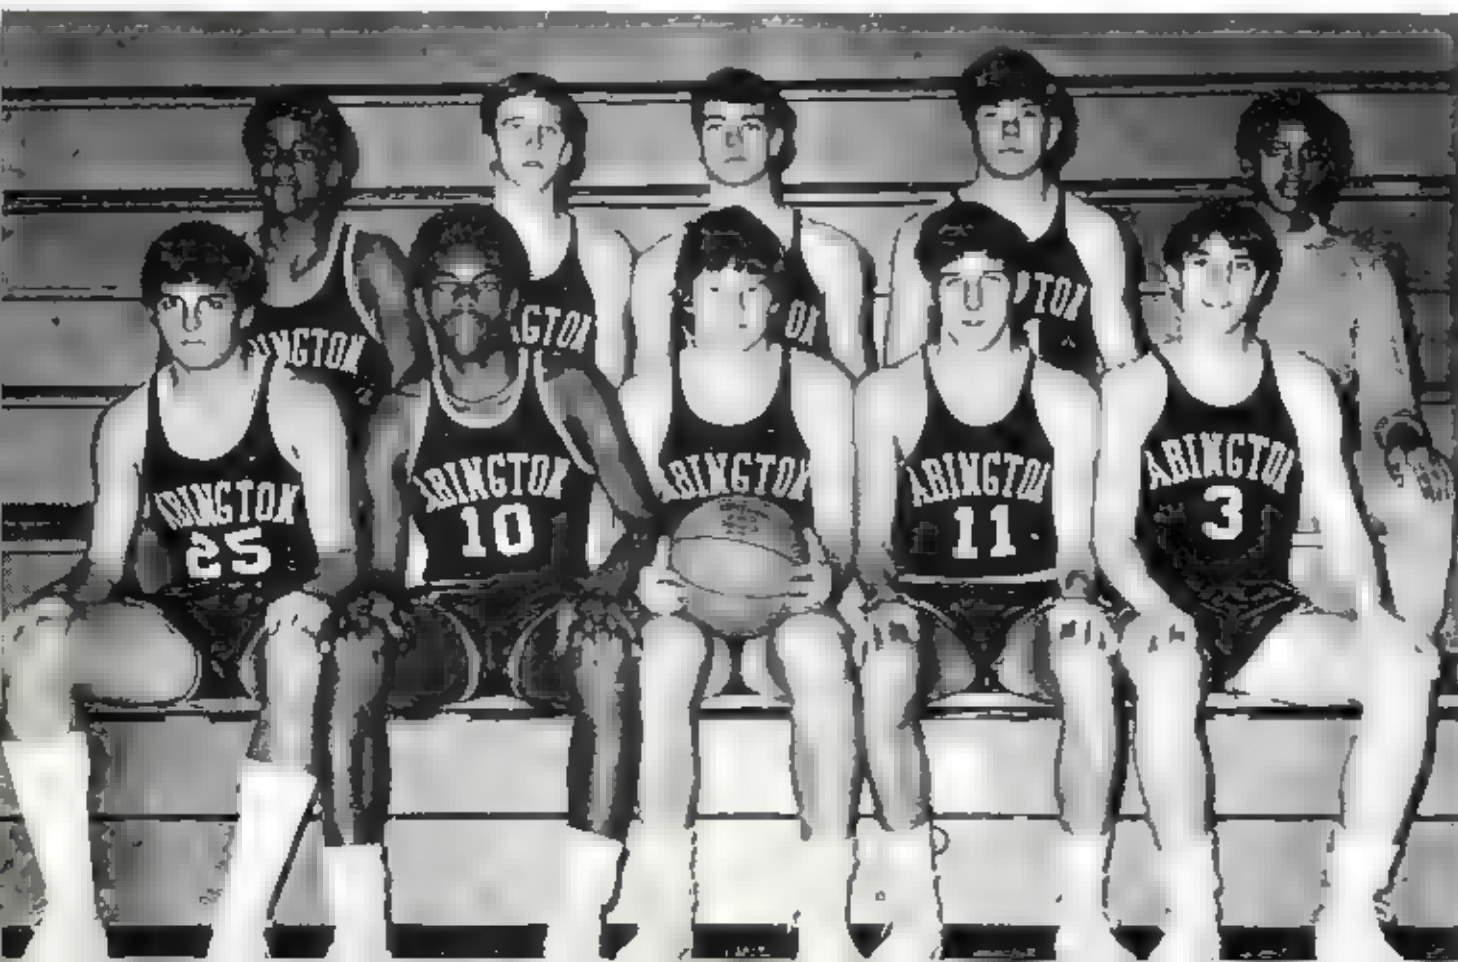

Preseason practice started with four excellent prospects at guard. When the season started, only one junior, Phil Tordella, was one hundred percent healthy. Junior Leo McKnight had just been out of a walking cast for a few weeks and his twin brother, Mike, was recovering from a broken collarbone. Co-Captain Jim Youngquist was lost for all but two games due to a knee injury.

The line of Co-captain Tony Hill, Laray Delee, John Grothusen and Dave Forrest at center looked like a bright spot.

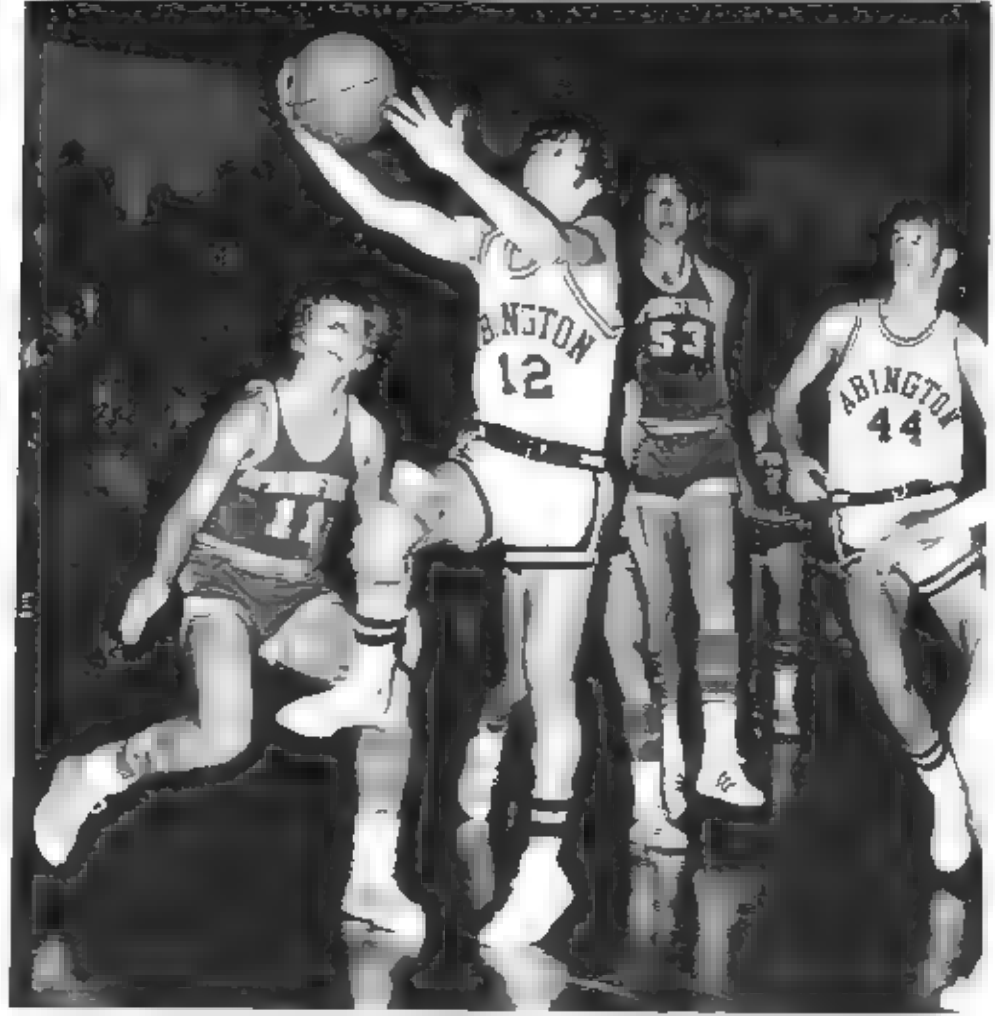

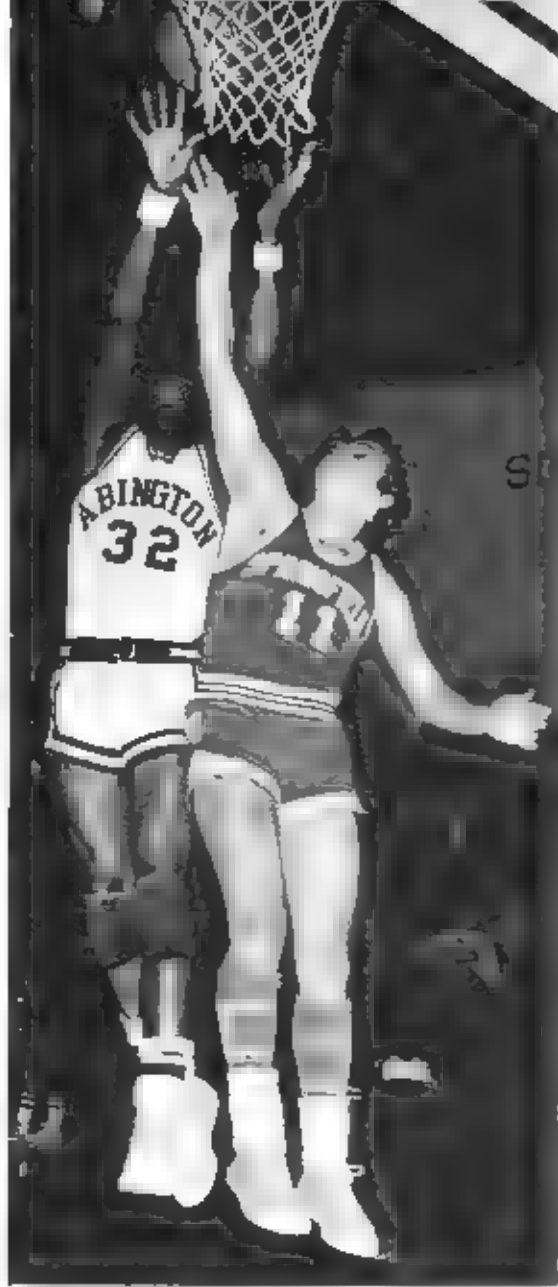

Abington started out with two victories but began to falter and their inexperience hurt them in a tough Suburban I title chase.

The Ghost's placed second in the Abington Invitational Tourney during the Christmas holidays losing to highly regarded LaSalle in the championship game.

The highlight of the season was knocking off co-Suburban I Champ, Springfield on their home boards 64-60. The biggest disappointment was the three point loss to Norristown after leading almost the entire game.

Led by Captain Craig Leypoldt and Heavyweight Andy Carrigan, ghost wrestlers compiled a very good record of 10-4. Mike Ganges and Andy Carrigan won Christmas Tourney Championships. Pete Gebert set a school record for takedowns. Andy Carrigan was undefeated and scored 78 team points. Seniors Pete Moses and Dan Pinkerton also wrestled well. Outstanding dual meet victories were registered over North Penn, Cheltenham, U. Moreland, and Bryn Athyn as the ghosts were known as a come-from-behind team. Andy Carrigan scored a record 12 falls on the season.

BOYS SWIMMING

The Boy's Swimming Team, under Mr. Charles Pawling, posted a 13-1 dual meet record this year, while winning their third consecutive Suburban 1 title and their second consecutive District 1 title. The Ghosts were led by senior Bruce Carter and sophomore Mark Schuman, who broke their own school records in the 400 freestyle and the 200 yd. individual medley, respectively.

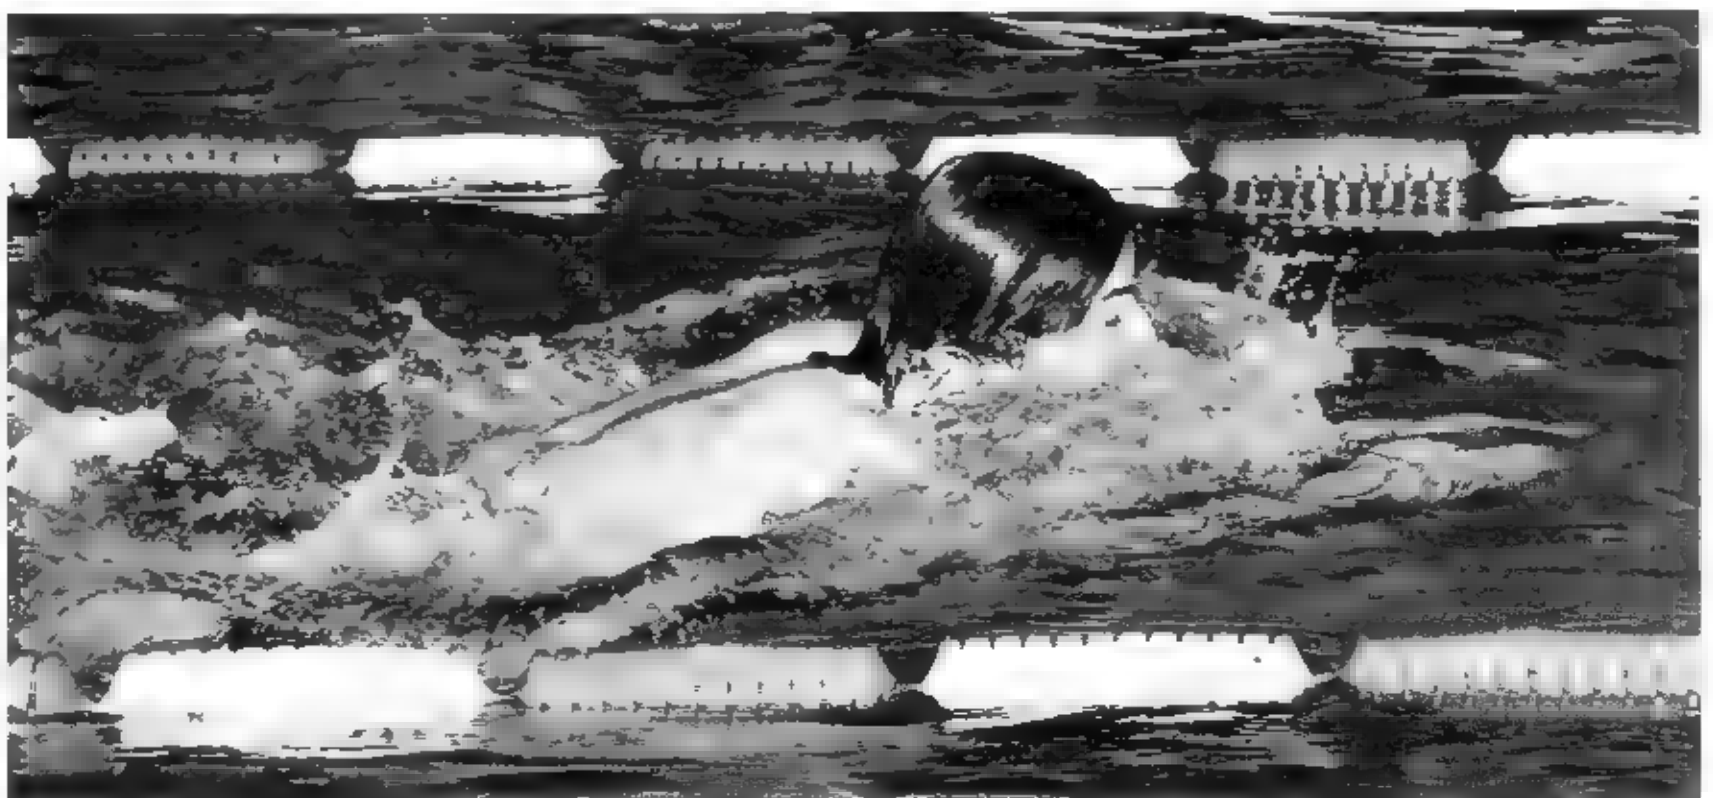

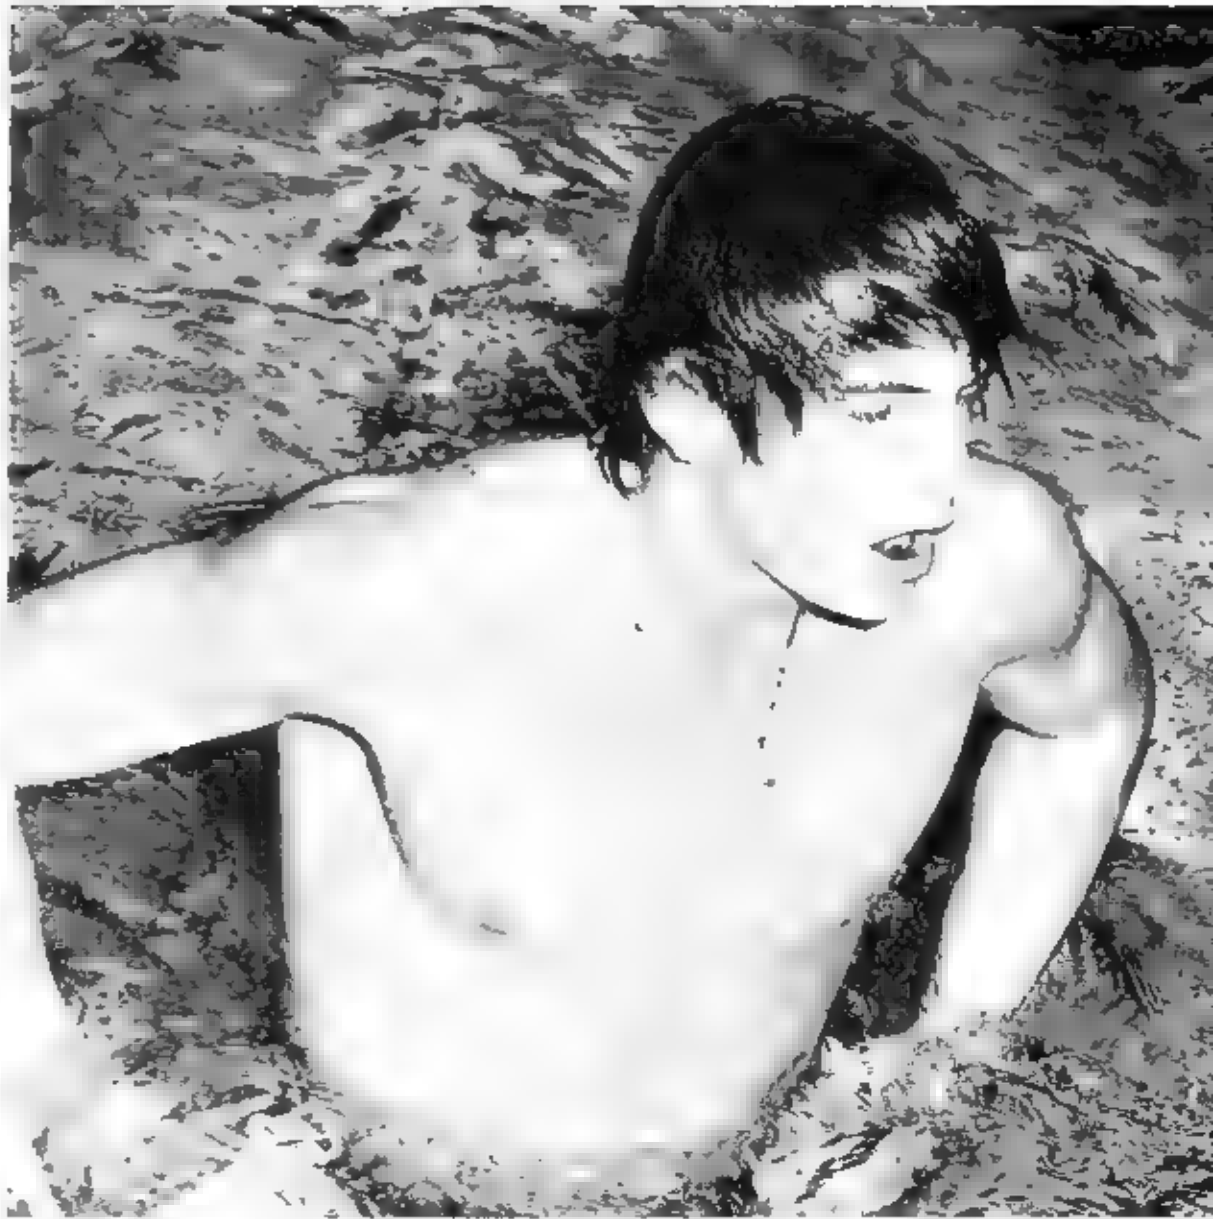

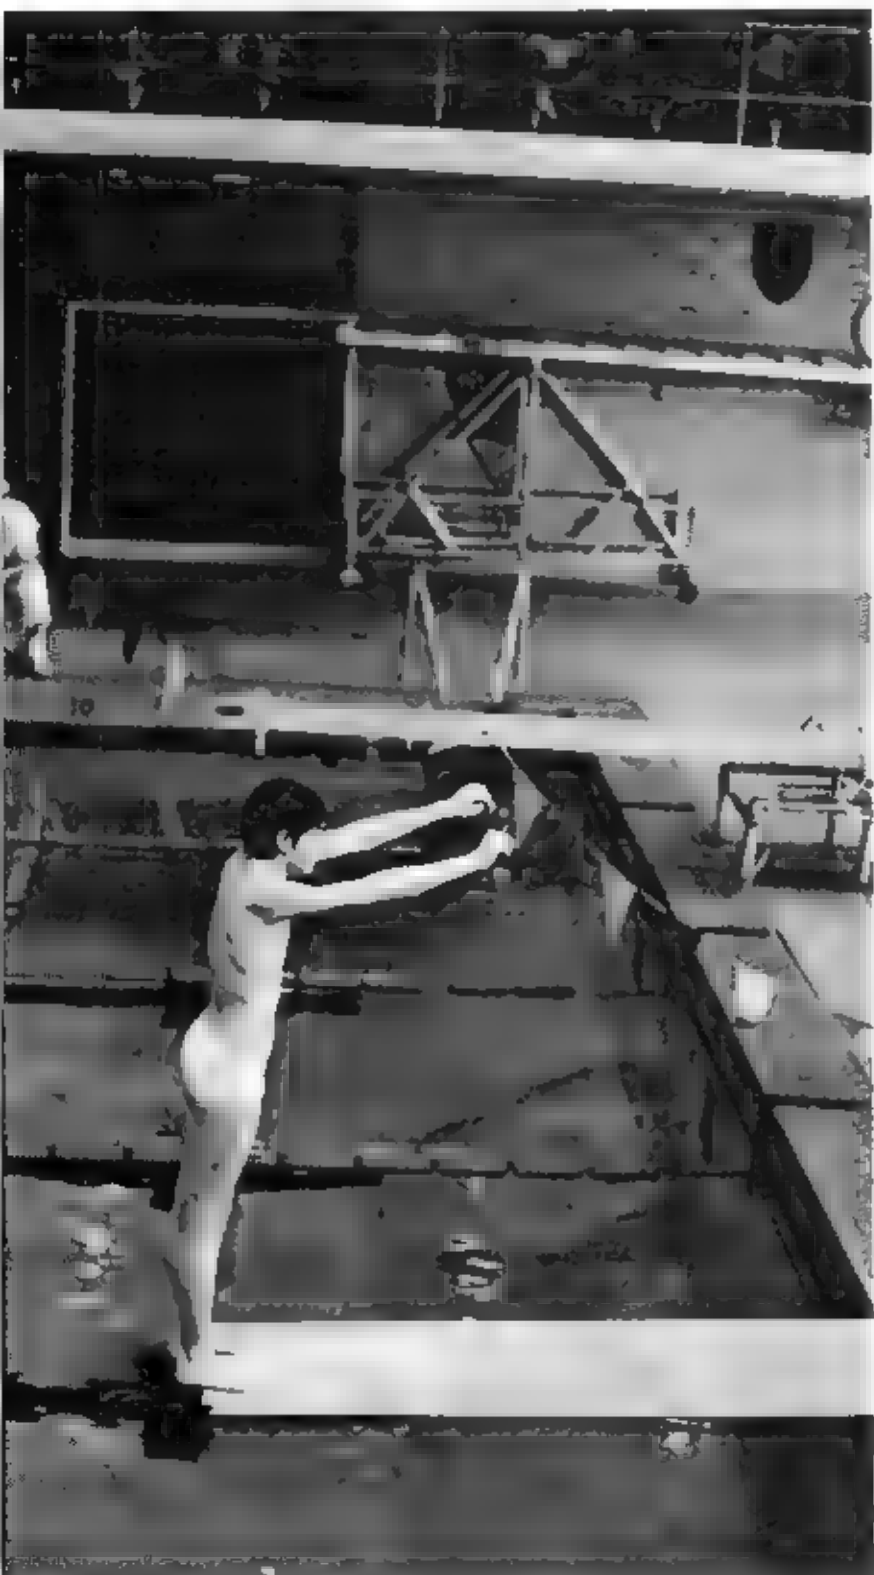

Fine performances were also turned in by seniors Robin Harford, Larry Bertolet, George Myers, Paul Winters and juniors M. Walters, B. Hoffman, B. West, and sophomores Carl Rieger, Bruce MacLeod, and freshman Steve Emerson.

Most of these swimmers will return again next year as the Ghosts will again attempt to defend the championship they have earned once again.

Girl's swimming, coached by Mrs. Dorothy Lemcke, had a top rate season this winter. They had a running start by winning the relay carnival in December and then went on to win 8 meets, losing only three.

The girls had a little hard luck in the middle of their season when several of their varsity swimmers fell sick for the William Tennent Meet. Things looked pretty bad when it came down to the last relay at the Springfield Meet. The relay tied and Springfield won by a judge's decision. Captains Linda Dusick and Janet Lockett (Cricket), however pulled team spirit up and led the team on to breaking records and winning their remaining meets.

The team is losing 5 valuable seniors this year, but hopes are high for the freshmen who have more talent than ever before.

While the first year as coach for Mr. Pete Bunting was less than successful, he and the team find themselves with an optimistic future. The 1971-72 season can easily be classified as a building year. Led by Capt. John Curtin, a junior, and bolstered by the all-around performance of Soph. Bob Ferensic, the team finished with a one and seven record. Without any losses through graduation, the Abington Gymnasts certainly anticipate surpassing this year's record next season.

What is it? Ask most students and the answer comes in the form of a negative shake of the head. However, to Coach James Gavaghan and the team, Winter Track presents an opportunity for individual and group achievement in the "boards". Meets take place, for the most part, on various fieldhouses. While not the most enjoyable of years, Wayne Mulcahn (shot put), George Van Hook (miles), Paul Wilson (miles), and Mike Erickson (sprints) achieved success in their specialties. Good Luck next year, Coach.

It all began eighteen years ago with Mr. Schneller at Huntingdon. Today it is the biggest extra-curricular activity connected with Abington. With well over one hundred students participating, the Boys Intramural Basketball League plays every Saturday from December through February.

To keep the school abreast of the teams' progress, the Sports Club initiated a United Press Intramural poll (U.P.I.) which rated the teams weekly and selected a player of the week. The results were broadcast over ARTW every Friday.

High Scorer of the season was Rudy Vigilante with a total of 177 points and an average of 25.8 per game. In second place was John Weaver with 159 points and an average of 22.7 points per game. Michigan defeated Notre Dame in the playoffs to become the undefeated number one team of the year. Notre Dame put up a tough fight and clinched second place. It was a very successful season for all those who participated.

A shot rang out, shattering the stillness of the February afternoon. A second shot and a third shot followed the first into immortality, closely followed by a volley of five to six more. A murder mystery? No, only the daily practice of the Abington Rifle team, hidden deep within the subterranean depths of Abington High School. Headed by James Sullivan and Captain Ed Coley, the team has had a successful season, capturing the league championship. With the bulk of the team being composed of juniors and sophomores, the future looks increasingly bright for the Abington Riflers.

The 1971-1972 Student Council spent an active year of attempting to deal with the common desires of the student body. The council became diversified in discussion and activities throughout the year. The usual services of Orientation Day for juniors in September, selling refreshments at all home football games, and running the Student Lounge were performed with relatively few problems. Other highlights of the year included an old-fashioned spirit day for the Cheltenham football game, a Christmas party for the residents of the Roslyn Convalescent Home, a very exciting and successful table tennis tournament, the sponsorship of Project Concern's Walk for Mankind, and several area exchanges. A mock election for Abington School Board candidates was arranged for late October only to be aborted due to a teacher walk-out. Legislation debated and acted upon at council meetings included issues such as student smoking, an open campus concept, and pass-fail grading in major and minor subjects.

The success of the past year's Student Council cannot be immediately determined. Only upon future reflection will we be able to tell if the year was a good one. One thing, however, is certain. The students who participated in the activities of the 1971-1972 council gained valuable insights into the High School Community and into themselves.

In its senior year, the Class of 1972 has proven to be one of the most active classes in Abington High School history. Led by its officers Jeff Sonnenfeld, President; Craig Leypoldt, Vice-President; Adam Aron, Treasurer; and Nancy Ullman, Secretary, the Senior Class Council held many traditional class projects including the Senior Prom, the Class Play, Involvement Day, and the Senior Class Work Day Scholarship Fund. The Class Council also distributed class directories.

The Class's most ambitious and most successful activity was the Senior Class Film Festival Series. Brought to Abington were such film Spectaculars as M*A*S*H, "Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid", "The Odd Couple", "The Dirty Dozen", "Bonnie and Clyde", and Bullitt." The Film Festival Series brought enjoyment to Abington students and financially was the most profitable single event in recent Abington history. The success of the Film Series pervaded the class.

The Council also worked on curriculum and administrative revisions in addition to fund raising and entertainment projects, examples being the Health Education Class reduction and open lunch proposals.

The phenomenal successes of this Class Council belong not only to the officers and the dedicated, hard-working representatives, but to the entire class. In a time when class spirit is laughed upon as an anachronistic, thoughtless emotion, the class managed to respond with interest to the stimulating and diverse programs offered. As a result, the class has grown in a way that many have not. Students have met their fellow classmates in non-academic environments and have learned to appreciate and understand their differences.

Working toward the goal of creating interest amongst the student body, the Junior class has provided a wide range of entertainment including major motion pictures such as "Daddy's Gone A Hunting", "The Boston Strangler", "Bullit", "They Shoot Horses Don't They?", and two Marx Brothers films. During the Christmas season, toys and books were collected and distributed to the needy. Later, Dr. Shock made a guest appearance along with the Dracula Festival. In the field of music an all-student rock concert and a jitterbug dance were provided. The play, "Catch Me If You Can", and "Fashion Show Superstar" were very successful.

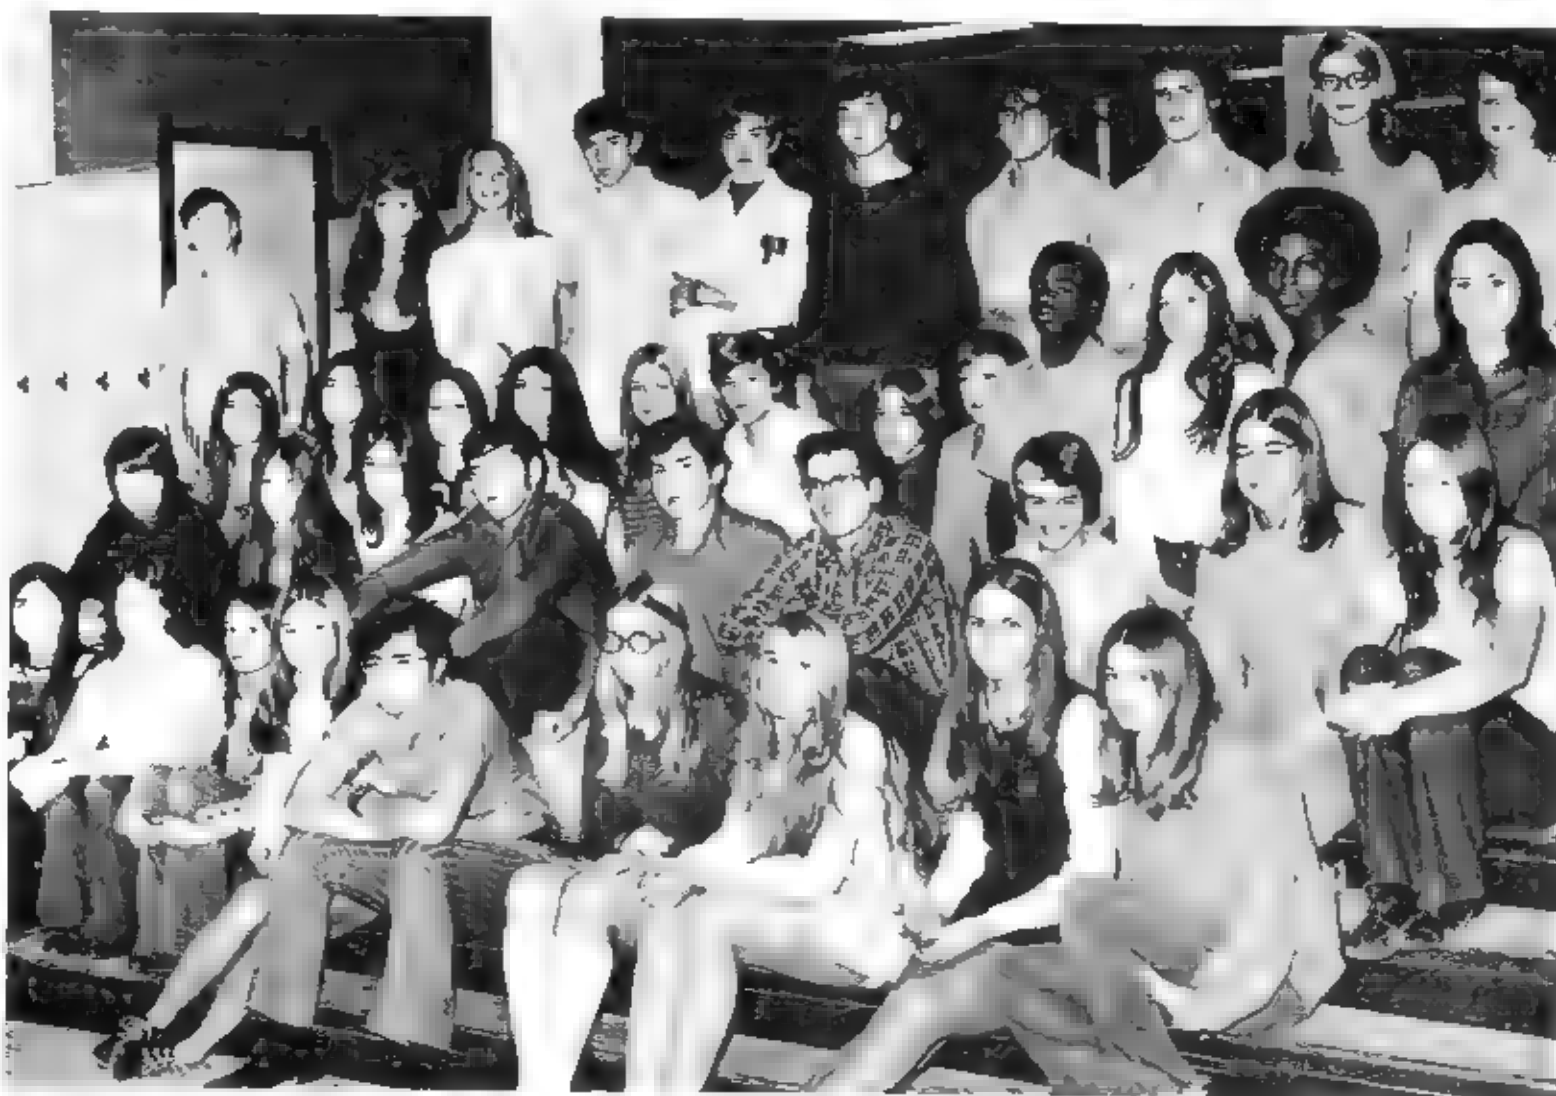

By far, the most radical entertainment program ever here was "The Spring Film Classic Series" when, for a period of eight consecutive weeks, excellent movies by Humphrey Bogart, Charlie Chaplin, Errol Flynn, Alfred Hitchcock, and Gary Cooper were presented. Held in the Little Theater, this series helped create a better outlook for the class. Thwarting all pessimism, the Junior Ball, fashioned as a fantasy, was simply fantastic.

This year the National Honor Society engaged in its traditional duties of inducting new members and awarding a scholarship in addition to a brief and inexpensive student lecture series. Mr. John Bunting, Philadelphia banker, spoke at the induction ceremony in April. A $125 scholarship, created out of Society dues, was awarded to an Abington student by the Honor Society. Also, the organization elected two members to enter a nationwide scholarship contest with a maximum award of $1000. Finally, in early spring, several club members spoke briefly to interested students on such topics as blood chemistry, mathematics, and music in a short lecture series.

The choir, under the direction of Mr. Harry C. Pursell, made several appearances this year aside from the Winter and Spring Festivals, among them a weekend exchange with Cold Springs High School in New York. This year was also successful for Abington's representation in both the district and state choirs as Abington was singled out for having the highest number of singing members chosen. In retrospect, the year has been an experience for all those involved.

AFFILIATION CLUB

The biggest project this year for the Affiliation Club was the International Weekend during the second weekend of December. Forty-five exchange students from twenty-one different countries spent a very busy three-day weekend at Abington. There were many parties and activities available to them and to their hosts, who were members of the Affiliation Club. The highlight of the Weekend was the coffee house, with international desserts, made by club members, for refreshments.

For the school year 1971-1972, the Affiliation Club was proud to sponsor nine exchange students from five different countries. After school, Monday through Thursday, the club members sold pretzels and brownies to help finance their activities. The officers this year were: President Bobbi Berger, Vice President—Babs Strousse, Secretary—Sue McGettigan, and Treasurer—Carol Bertolet. Miss Alberta Lang and Mr. David Shenton are the faculty sponsors for the Affiliation Club.

This year's Latin Club initiated the International Banquet, wherein all the "Culture Clubs" were participants. With the help of our dynamic advisor, Mr. Vincent Pezzullo, the club members have been able to expand their knowledge of Roman culture and civilization. The members of the Italian Club, also under Mr. Pezzullo's able leadership, involved themselves in activities outside of the periphery of the class, thereby increasing their understanding of Italy's people.

The French Club of 1971-72 had a very active year with the assistance of sponsor Mrs. Martha McIlvaine. While continuing its tutoring service, it conducted bake sales for several months early in the year and a candy sale prior to Christmas. The money that was raised helped to finance a trip to West Chester State College to see the French play "Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme." The French Club also organized several French dinners and sponsored an assembly in which the students viewed a film made in France during the summer of 1971 with Abington students Bonnie Reaback and Georg Van Hook.

This year marked the return of the Spanish Club sponsored by Mrs. Esperanza Galshack. Enthusiastic members, during their study periods, tutored other Spanish students. Most of the members were from Spanish V, although there were a few from third and fourth years. From these students to Mrs. Galshack and all the juniors - ¡Buena suerte!

INTERACT

This past year the Interact Club has tried to aid the school and community, following our motto, "Service above self". With this in mind, we undertook many successful projects. Led by president Irwin Weiss, vice-president Rich Reaback, secretary Sue Rosenthal, treasurer Barbara Buntan, and faculty sponsor Mrs. Tobin, we ran a bake sale and a candy sale. We were able to hold two successful parties at orphanages. In February we took a group of youths from an orphanage to an Abington basketball game. We also continued the sponsorship of an Indian child living in poverty in the Midwest. In the spring we sold water ice and sponsored an art sale. On various occasions we showed contemporary films which were open to the public. Everyone in the club felt that this was a very satisfying and enlightening year.

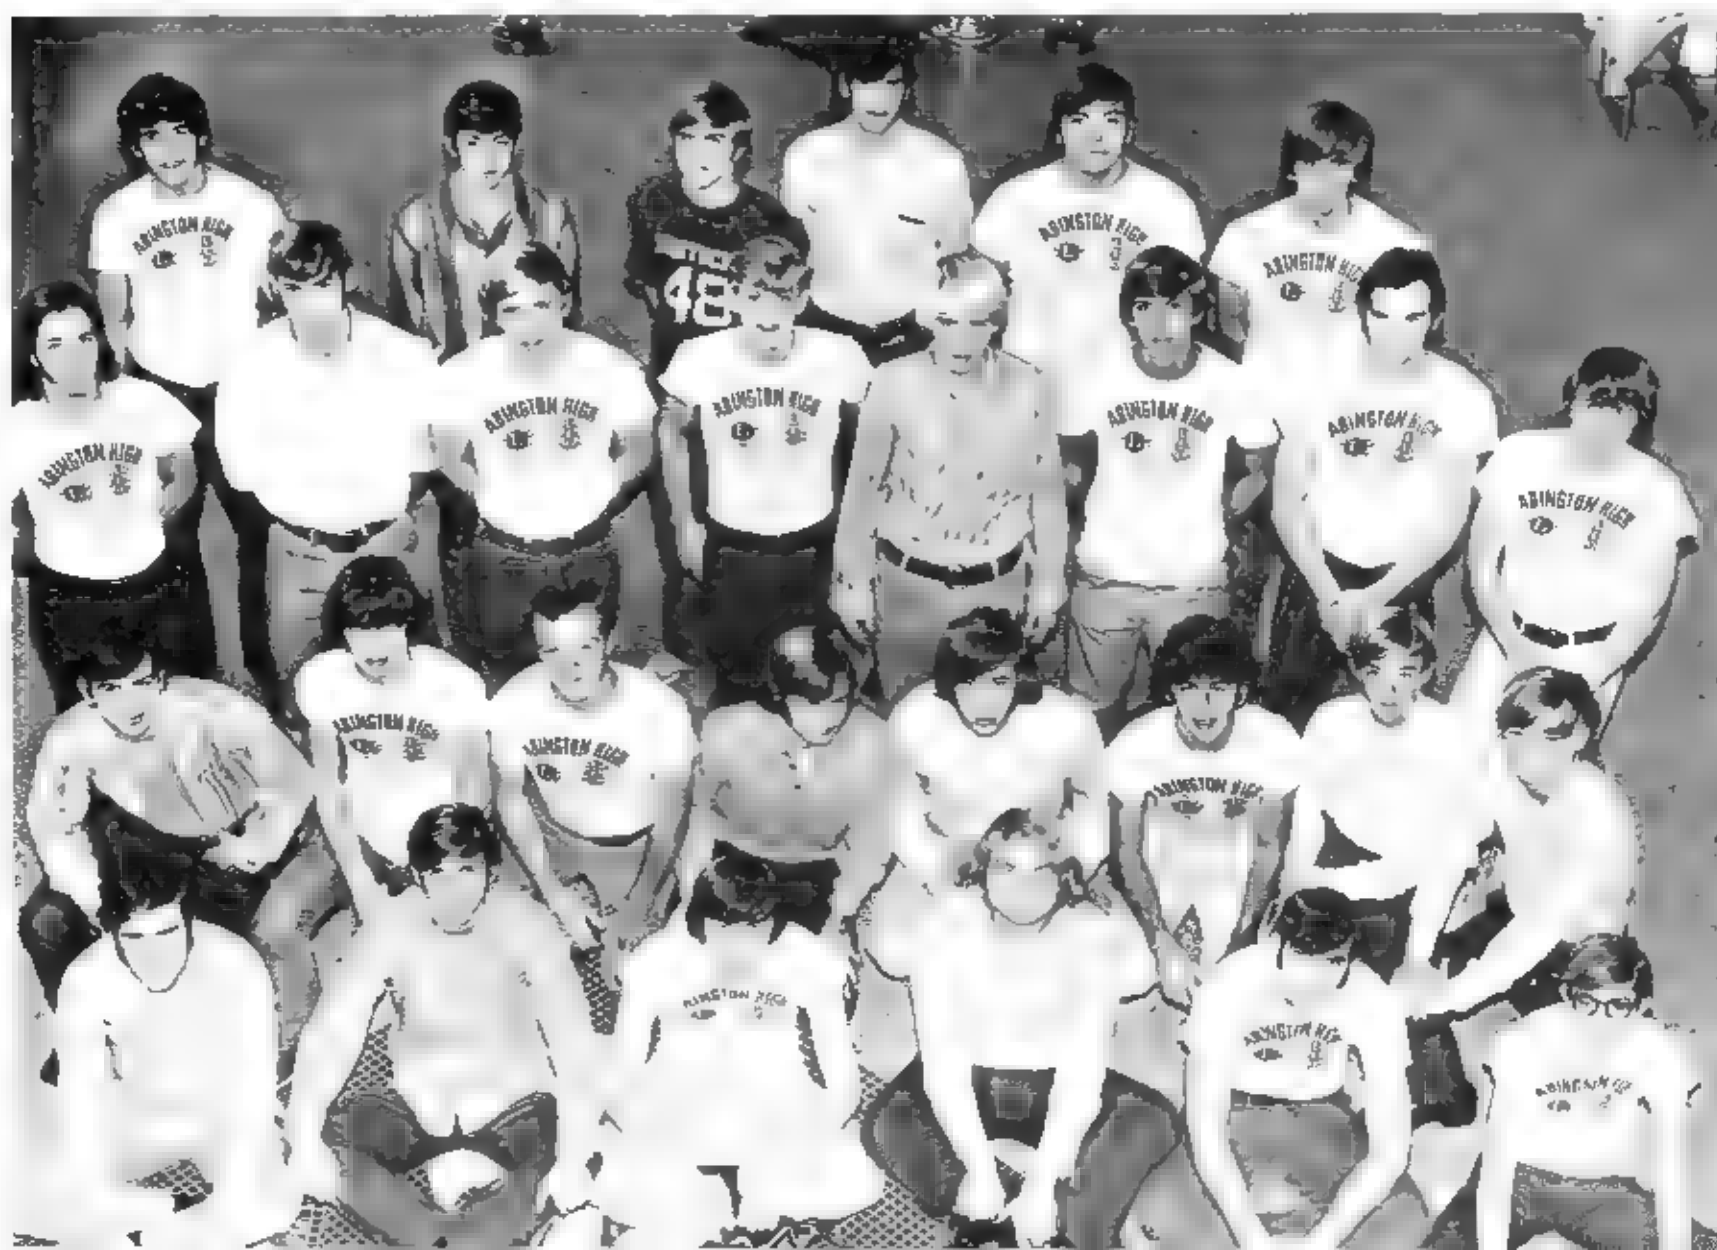

The Abington High School Key Club is one of almost 4,000 Key Clubs throughout the United States and Canada. The ultimate purpose of Key Club is to develop leadership, while providing service to the school and community.

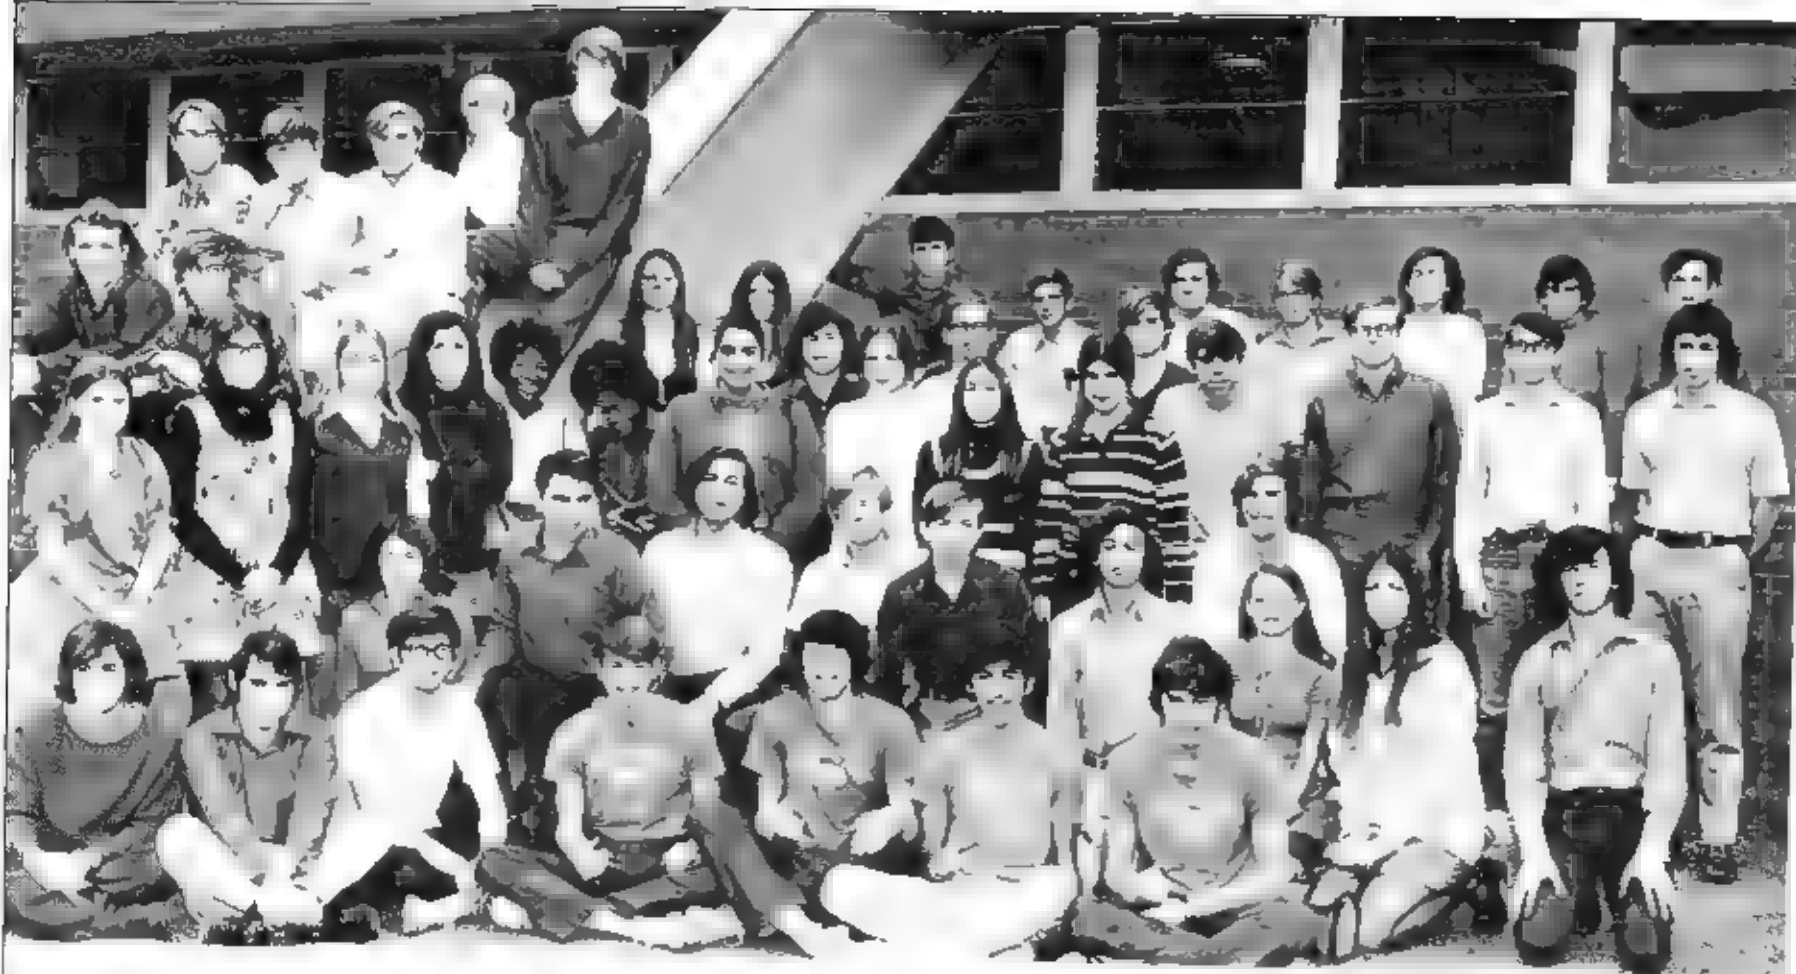

The Key Club this year has had many fine projects, including a pizza sale, a litter walk, and March of Dimes Collection. Yet, the best project of the year was bringing the singing group "Up With People" to Abington High School.

LEO CLUB

The idea of Leo Club, a high school organization, working with the community Lion's Club, was the first in the world. Leo members believe that there is a very strong youthful dedication to serve the school, community, and less fortunate people. The Abington Leo Club of 1971-72 participated and planned many worthy events. To help the blind, Leo Club collected money on "White Cane Day." They sponsored a Christmas party at the Christ's Home Orphanage. The club also ran the lost and found, and helped sponsor the inter-service club basketball league. Leo members also did much work in the Briar Bush Nature Center and at many homes in the community during the weekends.

The Sports Club, in its fourth year, was bigger and more active than ever before. There was a trip to the Spectrum to see the Los Angeles Lakers in the midst of their winning streak; the greatest in the history of professional sports. The big showdown at the Palestra between Penn and Villanova was witnessed by a busload of members. Also, a trip to the Spectrum to see the Flyers in action against the Minnesota North Stars was made. The club saw the Phillies battle the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates. Dave Wahl, the former Penn star and present member of the Seventy-Sixers, was a fine guest speaker. Another excellent guest speaker was Bobby Clarke of the Flyers. All seventy members of the club contributed to make it a very successful year.

Abington High School has long been known for its outstanding athletic teams. The Ghosts' second consecutive championship soccer team is an excellent illustration of this fact. Abington sportsmen are more than just good athletes, though, as we see in the Varsity "A" Club.

Open to all the boys receiving a varsity letter in athletics, the Varsity "A" Club is designed to enable these students to contribute something more than their ability to the athletic program at Abington.

Mr. Jean Trees, a mathematics teacher, sponsors the club. Among the many activities of this club are the sponsoring of the intramural basketball league and selecting the football queen and her court. Barbara Harberger was awarded the title this year.

The club is under the able leadership of Paul Winters, president; Scot Latimer, vice president and treasurer; and Ray Gump, secretary.

GIAC's major project this year was the green-stamp drive. The intent of this drive was the acquisition of a universal gym, an exercising unit, which can be used by all of the sports teams. GIAC participated in its usual spirit programs and had proposed many cooperative activities with Varsity "A". Also, in attempting to start a tradition at Abington, GIAC nominated 1971-1972 football kings.

The Abington Bicycle Club wheeled off to a fine start this fall with a trip to Mt. Holly, New Jersey. Rain prevented many of the scheduled trips from being held, but the spring agenda was promising and exciting. Bike rides were held on the weekends and varied in length from five to seventy-five miles. Founded in the fall of 1969 by Steve Kahn and Barry Blumberg, the Abington Bicycle Club has grown to a North-South Campus membership of over 100.

The ten team league games were played after school because the administration would only permit one early dismissal for a match. Under the watchful eyes of sponsor Mr. Jean Trees, the players became underated North Suburban Champs for the year 1970-1971 and retained this title through this new season as well

YOGA CLUB

Monday afternoons have been more than just "school afternoons" at least in P 216. The members of the 1972 Yoga Club, who might have been called "beginners", have become "advanced". This has been achieved with the help of Mrs. Jack Moses, one of the most informed and well-oriented Yoga instructors in the area. By 4:00 each Monday afternoon the class was well on its way to the relaxation that was felt at 3:05 Fridays. Even students from the Alternative School frequented this club, in hopes of relaxing themselves for another week.

SKI CLUB

The Abington Ski Club was more active this year than ever in the past. The club was enthusiastically led by Joan Miller (President), Jeanne Blauner (Vice President), Kim Tieger (Secretary), and Steve Van Scott (Treasurer) with sponsors Mr. Martin, Mr. Thomas, Mr. Bobb, and Mr. Conner.

Club activities included an afternoon of turf skiing, a ski film, the sale of bumper stickers, and a film and fashion show combination that raised $150. The money raised helped finance phone calls to Vermont and the lowering of the cost of the trips.

The club also took a number of trips to the Poconos and to Vermont. The day trips were to Elk Mountain and Great Gorge and the weekend trips were to Mt. Snow and Killington. The club also sponsored one super trip to Stowe, Vermont for a week during Easter.

HUMAN RELATIONS

The Human Relations Club met periodically in large and small groups to discuss problems in the school and the community. Individual and group efforts were directed toward improving inter-racial and inter-religious relations, and this year saw the development of the club's concern with women's rights.

Just chartered this year, the Jewish Studies Club has been an outlet for discussions on Judaism and Jewish Affairs, and has hosted guest speakers on this topic. Membership included students of all religions. Under the leadership of Gregg Greenberg, foundation for next year's Israeli Exchange Program has been laid.

The Abington Teens for Retarded Club consists of students who are interested in helping children with both mental and physical handicaps. Our main project this year was the Saturday Recreational Program for the mentally handicapped children of the Cadwalder School. The goal of this program was to help the children become socially oriented, strengthen muscles, develop hand and eye coordination, and to help the children acquire friendships.

Field trips to the Zoo, Franklin Institute, Hockey and Basketball games, and the movie "Babes in Toyland" were taken. With the assistance of Abington MacDonalds we were able to raise money for this program and to them we extend our thanks.

The officers for this year were: President— Edward Sickles, Vice-Presidents— Kevin Santry, Beverly Watson, Corresponding Secretary— Debra Olson, Recording Secretary— Joanne Golden, Club Sponsor— Miss Carrie Jones.

NEWLIFE . . . that's exactly what our club is all about; finding meaning and purpose for living through God and Jesus Christ, His Son. Each week as we've shared and discussed, we've found that in the Bible, God gives relevant answers and solutions to our questions and problems.

Besides our weekly discussions, we've had monthly activities including parties, picnics, and a spring weekend retreat. These have been great times of fun and getting to know each other, as well as sharing common problems and experiences.

Even though it is the hardest way, we are finding that God's way is the only one that works and lasts!

The Usherettes were present this year at all school activities: "The Madwoman of Chailot" in Nov.; the winter concert in Dec., which was presented by the choral department. Due to the repairs being done on the ceiling at South Campus, the concert was held at North Campus. Also, the Usherettes were present at the play "Catch Me If You Can", and at the school musical "On A Clear Day".

This year's Usherettes had a new look. New uniforms were bought to replace the ones used in past years. With the help of Mrs. Clemens, the club sponsor, this year's activities ran very well.

PFTA — Pennsylvania Future Teachers of America — that's what our initials stand for. Education is not a primary objective but rather an ultimate goal one strives to achieve as a member of this organization.

Our activities are varied and cover wide areas of interest to present and future educators.

To kick off the new school year — we had an open meeting to attract new interested members. Our meeting gave a background and objective approach to FTA. Also a brief summary of the past summer's activities at the regional convention, as attended by our sponsor, Mrs. Georgia Clemens and the current president, Donna Randolph. Lastly it also provided a social time gathering with refreshments.

Flea Markets have proven to be a unique addition and quite a huge success for fund raising. Other activities include listening to speakers, volunteering in neighboring elementary schools, and visiting state colleges. Education with enjoyment is our goal!

The Future Nurses Club is an organization for those interested in a career in the nursing field. The club was very active during 1971-1972. During Christmas they took refreshments to the patients at Friends' Hall and entertained them with singing. The club also took a trip to Upper Merion High School for a Medical Careers meeting. In addition, the Future Nurses Club had speakers from Chestnut Hill Hospital and the Armed Forces.

FBLA

In October, eight members of FBLA went to the Fall Regional Meeting at Hatboro-Horsham High School. This is a meeting where all the chapters in Region Twelve meet in a chosen high school. For Christmas, we went to Bethana Home in Southampton and decorated their dining area.

In order to raise funds for the club we sold candy and various cards and stationery. In the spring, Spring Regionals were held at Wissahickon High School. Spring Regionals are contests, in business subjects, where winners are given certificates of merit.

All around, the FBLA has had a successful year.

HONORARY

Strippers wearing lights, carrying trumpets—two bachelors attempting to live together—an eighteenth century countess appearing in a modern day French cafe—a girl who is talking to flowers... all this is a part of Theatre Honorary. Under the critical eye of Mrs. Cohen this group is known as being the thespian of Abington.

This group promotes and performs the Junior and Senior class plays. It also plays an important part in the musical. This year excellent productions of the Senior Class play, "The Madwoman of Chaillot" the Junior Class play, "Catch Me If You Can" and the spring musical, "On a Clear Day" reflected the interest and hard work of Theatre Honorary and all those involved.

The goal of the Abingtonian has been to remove itself from the stereotype of the traditional high school newspaper. These journals only published "safe", but stale news, happy, superficial editorials, and silly inane puzzles or interviews as feature articles. Sports reports were judged by the amount of names that were crammed in an article. Opinions were highly censored and the staff was a strictly structured bureaucracy. However the Abingtonian has evolved from this heritage. The paper does not reflect the views of any particular group. There are no restrictive policies on who can write or what topics can be discussed. These characteristics were realized by students and the staff was greatly increased. The Abingtonian became a forum for ideas. Creative writing and music, book and entertainment reviews were encouraged. Reporting greatly improved and editorials expressed views on many controversial and explosive topics.

The Abingtonian has been proclaimed an outstanding student newspaper by state wide and national evaluators. The Columbia Scholastic Press Association, a national organization, has awarded the newspaper two Medalist awards, twenty first places and four second places in separate ratings. Among them were: Straight News—Jeffrey Sonnenfeld, second; Straight Sports—Glen Duffy, first; Donald West, first; Informative Features—Jeffrey Sonnenfeld, second; Ariel Boisseau, second; Serious Poetry—Mark Dennis, second; Light Verse—Gerald C. Boehm, second; Photographs—John Kurovski, first; Cartoons—Joseph Melody, first; David Krouse, second; Illustrations—Diane Cassalia, first; Light Verse—Carol Vassian, second. The Pennsylvania Scholastic Press Association has cited the Abingtonian for four Keystone Awards, fifteen first places and seven second places.

A unique characteristic of the paper given much attention is its code of ethics. Written by the students, it guarantees and further clarifies the rights of freedom of the press in school. The editors-in-chief, Jeff Sonnenfeld, Patti Lawson, Bob West and Glen Duffy spoke about the newspaper code at the Pennsylvania Scholastic Press Association convention in Harrisburg on November 12, 1971 and at the Columbia Scholastic Press Association in New York on March 10, 1972.

NEWS BUREAU

The News Bureau may be called Abington's public relations department. Sponsored by Mr. Charles Schneller and Mr. Robert Lavelle, the News Bureau provides the local newspapers with articles and pictures of the school's various activities. Ronnie Kim is the hard working Editor-in-Chief, with her two able assistants Rick Williams and Barbara Suckla. Pictures are supplied by Photography editor Steve Kahn, with the strong support of his clicky finger camera men. The goal of the News Bureau is to keep in touch with the community, and let them know what goes on inside Abington High School.

The Camera Club of Abington High, with President Steve Kahn, plays an important role in school. The Camera Club serves the many publications of Abington; such as News Bureau, Abingtonian, Oracle, and Spectre. The students do their own developing and printing, and have taken over 3,000 pictures of school activities this year.

The debate team has had a highly successful year in the Southeastern Pennsylvania Debate League, which is comprised of ten area high schools. This year's debate resolution, "That the jury system in the United States should be significantly changed," has resulted in such topics as no-fault insurance, military justice, and arbitration in anti-trust cases.

Although our teams go against other schools having debate as a major subject, the determination and interest on the part of our members and our sponsor, Mr. Robert Burt, resulted in an excellent winning record.

CREATIVE WRITING CLUB

Left to Right: S. Rosenzweig, H. McNulty, C. Hardwick, V. Fisher, M. McCants. Standing: Mr. Brown, sponsor.

The Creative Writing Club serves as an outlet for the talents of inspired members of the student body. The club meets on alternate weeks to discuss the varied works of the members, who produce uninhibited plays, poems, short stories, and even an occasional novel. They write for their own pleasure but this fact does not preclude by any means the possibility of publication.

FOLK GUITAR CLUB

Row 2: Mrs. Tinkelman (sponsor), B. Wright, R. Kalikow, S. Berkowitz, E. Friedman, J. Brader Row 1: B. Nugent, S. Prentzel, M. Hallman, D. Rose

The Folk Music Club has been very successful this year in making the people of the club and the school come together. The Muyor Coffee House was created this year and was held in December and March. In April, the seventh annual Folk Concert was presented. Aside from this, our club meetings were made up of presentations of various types of music by members.

FOLK DANCING CLUB

Abington's First Annual Table Tennis Tournament was held in January. Despite the hasty preparation and unprecedented number of participants, the entire set of games, from the preliminary first rounds to the dramatic championship match, was a roaring success. Winners were, in Class B, junior Bob Sundy, and in Class A, where the stiffer competition was, senior Peter Hileman managed to eke out a win over Burt Rublin. Perhaps the greatest achievement to come from the tournament was the securing of a ping pong table for the student lounge.

The Alternative School is not just a school, it is a project that is testing new curricula, new types of schedules, and new ways of teaching and learning. Because of its experimental nature, the school is always open to change. The school has an open campus policy which means a student is required to be at school only when he is scheduled for classes. In addition to classes, students are expected to work six hours a week in their own "community involvement" program of part time work, volunteer service, or major independent study. A final policy is that the school is non-graded which means that all of the classes are mixed without any separations according to grades.

The school calendar is broken up into five cycles of seven weeks each. Schedules are very flexible and there are courses offered at night and also on weekends. Decisions about which courses to offer are made by the staff in consultation with students. A student curriculum task force makes the final decision about which courses will actually run. Students may choose one or any combination of the five grading systems offered.

If you have never heard of the Alternative School, you may begin to realize that the students help to make almost any decision about the school. This is one of the reasons school this year has been an exciting place to be. The courses are very stimulating, the staff is great, and the school has an atmosphere about it that you, too, would feel just by visiting. Although disagreements are something that we have a lot of, just about everyone agrees that learning outside of a classroom and outside of the school is as important as the classroom. The Alternative School is trying to leave these channels wide open for other kinds of learning, and at the same time is experimenting with the classroom itself.

—Nancy Faller—

IN MEMORIAM

Nancy Joan Wilson
1954-1971

A bright smile and a friendly hello were the trademarks of this vibrant young lady. Nancy had varied interests including Young Life and Student Affairs. One of her major hobbies was centered on art. It was in this field that her self-awareness and social consciousness was made apparent.

With the graduation of the Class of 1972 fast approaching, we commemorate this page to Nancy Joan Wilson.

You have walked among us a spirit, and your shadow has been a light upon our faces . . .

For life and death are one, even as the river and the sea are one . . .

Kristine, a member of the Class of 1972, died in May of her junior year. In only three years, she had established herself as an active and verbal member of her class. She was very much involved in the various student publications in both North and South Campus. Student and Class Councils and their respective functions and goals were of a major concern for Kristine.

With respect and sadness the Class of 1972 recalls the loss of our classmate

Kristine Mary Allibone
1954-1971
